CORK FIRE IS PROBED TODAY

Rival Factions Put Blame for Big Blaze on Each Other

(By the Associated Press)
LONDON—Investigation by a military commission of the fires which swept the city of Cork on Saturday and Sunday was expected to be completed there today. Maj. Gen. Strickland, commander of military forces in Ireland, is the head of the commission and the taking of evidence began yesterday. The mayor of Cork and two Sinn Féin members of the parliament have been called to explain allegations they have made in a despatch sent to various foreign ambassadors here relative to outrages which they declare to have been perpetrated in Cork.

Announcement of the commission's findings was awaited with keen interest as the question of who was responsible for the fires in Cork has assumed great importance since the confederation. Rival elements have been doing their utmost to fix the blame on the auxiliary police or the Irish extremists, respectively.

Sir Hamar Greenwood, chief secretary for Ireland, speaking in the house of commons last night, asserted his belief that the auxiliary police did not start the fires.

Prospects of a truce in Ireland appear to have been blasted by the recent events, declared Sir Hamar.

Telephone service between England and Dublin which was interrupted last night was resumed this morning. The break in communication gave rise to much speculation and some anxiety here.

FARMING CONGRESS OUTLINED BY HATCH

Speaks to Agricultural Triangle Club on U. S. Agricultural Policy

That the winning of the World war was due in a great measure to the broad constructive policy of agriculture adopted by the United States over 50 years ago, was declared by Prof. Kirk L. Hatch, assistant director of agricultural extension, Sunday morning at the meeting of the Agricultural Triangle club in the Y. M. C. A. parlors.

"The United States was the first nation to adopt a real constructive program in agriculture," Professor Hatch asserted. "The government recognized the fact that the soil is the biggest asset to this country, and that agriculture is the only industry that is self-perpetuating. Interest in our posterity and future growth was shown by the establishment of agricultural colleges as early as in 1802."

"Another step in expanding the policy of constructive agriculture was taken in 1914 when the Smith-Lever bill, providing for extension work, was passed by congress. Although this measure was passed just before the opening of the recent war, the effect was great in helping the farmers of the United States successfully to increase the food supply in the crisis of the past few years."

"The county agent, as a part of this act, was established to inform the farmers how to apply science to agriculture and thus increase their crop yields. Agricultural experiment stations have been founded by the government as an aid in the big program."

Opportunities which students of agriculture now have upon entering this work were presented by Professor Hatch briefly. He declared that students with personality, leadership and the proper training are constantly needed to carry on this work of the state and federal government. How county agents have actually increased the output

GRIM FIGHT IS LOST BY GRID HERO

George Gipp Succumbs Today to Throat Disease

WAS NATIONAL STAR Won Choice for Position on Mythical All-American Team

(By the Associated Press)
SOUTH BEND, Ind.—George Gipp, Notre Dame football player, died at 3:25 o'clock this morning from streptococcal throat disease. Gipp, whose splendid playing won him countrywide recognition and made him a choice for a position on an All-American eleven, had been ill since the Notre Dame-Northwestern game on Nov. 20.

Pneumonia also helped weaken him. Specialists called from Chicago succeeded in ridding his system of pneumonia, however, but Gipp did not have the stamina left to ward off the poison resulting from the throat affection.

During the final hours of his fight, Gipp was rational and was said to show remarkable grit as he gradually grew weaker. His mother, brother and sister were at his bedside.

Gipp first jumped into the spotlight as an unusual football player when Notre Dame clashed with the Army in 1919.

One ray of happiness was brought into his few remaining hours when he was informed that he had been selected as a player on a mythical all-American eleven. During his illness he also was informed that he had been offered a contract by the Chicago National league baseball club. Gipp's ability as a baseball player was on a par with that in football.

Gipp was 24 years old. His home was in Laurium, Mich. He was a senior at Notre Dame, being a law student.

MANY FILMED DAILY IN MOVIE TRYOUTS

Speed is the slogan of the Variety Movie managers for the cast tryouts they are holding this week. Their object is to film as many applicants as possible before vacation, in order to select photographs of a few who film best, to use as a basis for judgment in the final choice of the cast. The photographs may be run, in addition to the regular picture, at one of the local theaters. Each tryout takes about ten minutes, and consists of a general summary of the type of characterization for which the subject seems best suited. There are 150 names on the list for tryouts, but further applications will be received if sent in immediately.

Had Terrible Cough In Bed 3 Years

In 3 weeks she was out on the streets again, feeling fine.

"In 1918, I had a gripple, followed by pneumonia which left me with a severe cough. I coughed constantly from morning till night and then would wake up in the night and cough and choke. I lost flesh and my appetite was very poor. I doctored with a specialist for over a year, and had several other doctors, but got worse instead of better. Last winter I was bed-ridden, had chills and fever and got so weak I could not sit up in bed 5 minutes without fainting.

"In February, 1919, I started on Milks Emulsion. I was then in bed, but in 3 weeks, I was able to be up and on the streets. Just think of it! For 3 years I have been a physical wreck, in bed most of the time, and Milks Emulsion had brought me out in wonderful shape. My friends all tell me how well I'm feeling for they didn't expect me to be living today."—Miss M. Russell, 1003 Opelousas St., Algiers, La.

In thousands of just such cases, Milks Emulsion has brought the same wonderful relief and improvement. It costs nothing to try.

Milks Emulsion is a pleasant, nutritive food and a corrective medicine. It restores healthy, natural bowel action, promotes appetite and puts the digestive organs in shape to assimilate food. CASE IS WON BY WEST ALLIS

Divided Court Causes Decree in Favor of Judgment

The city of West Allis won its paving case in the supreme court today by a divided court. In 1917 the common council of West Allis made an assessment of damages against several abutting property owners on National ave. for paving expenses incurred in then placing a new wearing surface upon an existing concrete base which had been constructed in 1912.

Upon appeal to the circuit court the assessments were upheld and from a judgment confirming the same the several plaintiffs appealed to the supreme court.

Justice Kerwin did not participate in the hearing and decision of this case. Chief Justice Siebeck, Justices Vinje and Owen were of the opinion that judgment of the circuit court should be affirmed. Justices Rosenberry, Eschweiler and Jones were of the opinion that it should be reversed. This under the rule requires an affirmative of the judgment.

The supreme court affirmed the decision of the lower court in the case of Joseph Pinter against L. A. Wenzel.

Joseph Pinter, a young man, on May 18, 1919, was buying gasoline from L. A. Wenzel, Milwaukee. The gasoline was emptied into a tank by means of a hose and it was then cranked by an automatic pump. About one-half gallon of gasoline overflowed the tank and poured over the motor causing an explosion. The trial court granted L. A. Wenzel a non-suit and dismissed the complaint from which decision Joseph Pinter appealed.

"Actional negligence must be affirmatively shown," says Justice R. G. Siebeck. "The burden rests on the plaintiff to show with reasonable certainty how the explosion was caused. We are persuaded that the evidence fails to show this fact and that the non suit was properly granted."

The supreme court affirmed the judgment in the case of Carl Wendorf, Jr., against the director general of railroads.

Carl Wendorf, Jr., a boy of 9 years of age, was thrown off a freight car upon the side of which he was climbing while the car was at rest. It was later put in motion with such violence that he was thrown down and under the car and had his leg cut off by one of the wheels. The accident occurred between the Hopkins road and the railroad station at North Milwaukee. Wendorf claims that the railroad company was negligent in that it failed to make the most casual examination as to whether any one was near the train. Wendorf lost in the lower court and appealed.

"It is clear that the absence of a cattle guard at the margin of Hopkins road and the railroad right of way did not cause, nor was it the means of producing plaintiff's injuries," says Chief Justice Siebeck. "We do not consider that a train of railroad cars on a track can be classed with turntables and like machinery as alluring and attractive to children, so as to put the burden on railroad companies to carefully guard them against danger to small children. The judgment is affirmed."

The supreme court affirmed the decision of the lower court in the case of the Mandarin company, against Charles Toy.

Charles Toy, Milwaukee, is the owner and lessor of a six story building on Second street. On October 2, 1916, by written lease for a term of sixty years, Toy leased to the Mandarin Company certain floors of the building. In both places the electric wires and the steam pipes had been previously connected with Toy's system and were so connected at the taking of possession by the Mandarin Co. Charles Toy claimed that under an oral agreement the Mandarin Co. was to pay for electricity and heat and had because of delays served a notice upon the Mandarin Co. that he would no longer furnish light or heat to the Mandarin Co. pursuant to oral agreement and asked that within a stated time changes be made. The Mandarin Co. thereupon brought this action to restrain Charles Toy from refusing to further supply electricity and steam. On December 15, 1919, an order was entered denying the Mandarin Co.'s motion for temporary injunction. From this order this appeal was taken.

"Plaintiff claims defendant had no right to discontinue heat and light service," says Justices Vinje. "In view of the express conditions of the lease exempting him from furnishing such service he cannot be compelled to do so by virtue of the lease. The trial court therefore properly refused to grant a temporary injunction."

A verdict of $5,123.94 damages was affirmed by the Wisconsin supreme court on Tuesday in the case of Hiram J. Smith against the Yellow Cab Co.

This action for damages was started by reason of a collision that occurred between Hiram J. Smith's auto and an automobile of the Yellow Cab Co. operated at the time by Joseph Haase, upon the highway between Milwaukee and Racine, at a point about seven miles north of Ripon. Smith was traveling in a southerly direction toward Racine and Joseph Haase was traveling in a northerly direction toward Milwaukee. From a judgment entered upon a special verdict, of $5,123.94 damages and costs in favor of Hiram J. Smith, and Flora D. Smith, the Yellow Cab appealed.

"An examination of evidence as to injuries resulting to Mr. Smith from the collision satisfies us that the damages awarded were not excessive. The trial court approved of the award and we cannot disturb it."

The commission also authorized the Wisconsin Valley Improvement Co. of Lincoln County to treat a storage dam on Spirit River.

Disabled Soldiers Are Held Employes

In an opinion given informally to the Federal Board for Vocational Education, the industrial commission today held that disabled soldiers and sailors who are placed with employers for vocational training are employees within the meaning of the compensation act. The fact that some of these trainees are not paid any wage was held to be immaterial. The commission urges employers to cooperate with the federal board in affording training to disabled soldiers and sailors who are vocationally handicapped.

JAP QUESTION IS SUBJECT OF JOINT DEBATE

Philomathia to Meet Hesperia in Fifty-first Annual Contest Jan. 14

"Resolved, That all Japanese resident in the United States should be granted United States citizenship," is the question which has been selected for the fifty-first annual joint debate to be held this year on January 14 at Music hall between teams representing Philomathia and Hesperia literary societies.

Charles D. Assovsky '21, Sterling Tracy '22, and Robert B. Stewart '22, will support the affirmative for Philomathia. Ralph Axley '23, Fred A. Kraege '22, and Leo Kohl '22, will uphold the negative for Hesperia.

The joint debate is ranked as the forensic classic of the year, and to the society returned the winner goes the championship of the campus plus a substantial quota of points toward the Vinas Banner. The best debaters in the two societies are chosen by the members to represent them in the contest and enthusiasm among the societies always reaches a high pitch.

Athenae Eliminated

Hesperia defeated Athenae last year, thereby causing the latter to yield its place in the debate until next year when it will challenge the winner of this year's contest. The members of the respective teams are elected at the last meeting of the societies in the spring and are kept constantly at work on the subject until the debate finally takes place late in the following semester.

The Japanese question was chosen because it is one of vital interest and is political rather than an economic question which the societies were desirous of avoiding this year. The teams will get together shortly to choose judges and arrange other details of the contest. It is planned to have five members of the Wisconsin Supreme Court as judges this year with Governor John J. Blaine presiding.

Famous Old Recipe for Cough Syrup

Really and cheaply made at home, but it beats them all for quick results.

Thousands of housewives have found that they can save two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, by using this well known old recipe for making cough syrup. It is simple and cheap but has no equal for prompt results. It takes right hold of a cough and gives immediate relief, usually stopping an ordinary cough in 24 hours or less.

Get 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex from a druggist, pour it into a pint bottle and add plain granulated sugar to make a full pint. If you prefer use clarified molasses, honey, or syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, keeps perfectly and lasts a family a long time.

It's truly astonishing how quickly it acts, penetrating through every part of the throat and lungs, loosens and heals the membranes, gradually but surely the annoying throat tickle and dreaded cough disappear entirely. Nothing better for bronchitis, spasmodic croup, whooping or bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine pine pine extract known the world over for its healing effect on membranes. Avoid disappointment by asking your druggist for "2 1/2 ounces Pinex" with full directions and accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. ART EXHIBIT SHOWS SKILL

Artistic Feeling Marked in Work of Local Painters

Among the works of local artists now on exhibit by the Madison Art Guild at the parish house of the Unitarian church are many paintings of special interest either because of the local subjects pictured, the skill and artistic feeling shown by the painter, or because of the personal interest in the artist. The exhibition was planned to allow the friends of the club members to see their work and also that the members might be able to compare their own pictures with others.

The pictures of Mrs. John Hausman are modern, broad in effect, and striking from a distance as they are done with a pallet knife. Interesting views of the Capitol, Bascom hall, and the Yahara river were done in water color by Miss Flora Mearns.

Two pictures of sand dunes showing feeling and strength in handling are the work of Mrs. Jessie Skinner done while in Sawgatack, Mich., attending the summer session of the Art Institute. Two water colors done in Maine and two in oil done in Florida are the work of Miss Leola A. Dow. The smoke and beauty of a harbor and the magic of shipping is depicted in "Along the Wharf" and "The Harbor." Mrs. Stella Elmendorf Taylor has done several large canvases showing scenes along the shore of the local lakes. An unusual study of a young girl under a tree is the work of Mrs. Howard L. Smith, president of the guild, together with several other pieces. The soft grays in the landscapes of Mrs. W. E. Chase lend a charm to her scenes of woodland and meadow.

Miss Bernice Oehler has a crayon portrait and several decorative pictures on exhibition, among them one called "The Spirit of the Flames." A red cross girl and some landscapes are the work of Mrs. H. E. Michelson, while Mrs. Herbert Kindy has two flower pieces and the portrait of a young girl. A large number of sketches in pencil and crayon were done by the Evening Sketching Club in connection with the Guild.

Voice of the People

SAYS CLAIMS UNTRUE
To the Editor of the Capital Times: Gustav Lindquist, insurance commissioner of Minnesota, recently made a speech in Milwaukee criticizing the North Dakota compensation law. It was part of a speech made in denunciation of the Non-partisan League. The following is a copy of a letter which has been sent to Mr. Lindquist by S. S. McDonald, commissioner of the workmen's compensation bureau of North Dakota.

Mr. Gustav Lindquist, Insurance Commissioner, St. Paul, Minnesota:
"Dear Sir: My attention has been called to a copy of the Minneapolis Journal of December 5, a news item of which gives part of a purported speech that you made in Milwaukee on December 3 or 4, in which you criticize the Hail Insurance Law and the Workmen's Compensation Law of North Dakota. I do not intend to answer your criticism of the Hail Insurance Law. This, no doubt, will be taken up by the State Hail Insurance Commissioner, Mr. Olmstead.

If the Journal reports you correctly, you charge that the State Insurance fund which North Dakota maintains and which is paying compensation to injured employees is less liberal to working men than the Minnesota law. You are either ignorant of the first principle of compensation laws when you made this remark, or you are deliberately doing so for political purposes.

You cited the case of Prokop Patara, a Bismarck workman, who was hurt on December 9, 1919, by the state street car. It is true that Mr. Patara was hurt on this date, and that is about the only truthful statement you have in the whole criticism of our law. You further state that Mr. Patara's case came before the Bureau and that it was held that Mr. Patara could not have compensation because he was a casual laborer. I wish to say that Mr. Patara never had his case before the Bureau, never applied to the Bureau for compensation, and to my knowledge, was never in the office of the Bureau. For the very clear reason that Mr. Patara was not an employee, but an employer owning and driving his own team and therefore not entitled to compensation under any compensation law of any State in the United States.

You say that if Patara had been employed in Minnesota and had had protection of the Minnesota compensation statute under liability companies, instead of a state fund, he would have been paid compensation promptly. There I differ with you. Mr. Patara would not have received compensation in Minnesota or in any other state because, as I said before, he was an employer, and not an employee. And when you compare your compensation law of Minnesota with our compensation law of North Dakota, as I said before, you are either ignorant of the first principles of compensation laws for you are deliberately doing this for political reasons. If it is the former, you should inform yourself about the different laws before you criticize them before a public body as you did at Milwaukee. If it is the latter, it is certainly despicable of a man who holds a public office, of nations holding its first session this map, showing what part of the world is in and what sections out of the league, is interesting, the black areas indicate the nations and dominions who are members of the league. The shaded portions represent the nations who are under the influence of control of league members. The white sections include the nations that have not joined the league. CONSTANTINE TO RESIGN THRONE

Declare Greek King to Ab- dicate in Favor of George

(By the Associated Press)
PARIS—Constantine will not remain long on the throne of Greece, say Geneva dispatches. The correspondents declare they obtained this information from a "personage closely connected with Constantine." He is quoted as saying that after a brief interval Constantine will abdicate in favor of Prince George, Duke of Sparta.

In taking this course, Constantine, it is asserted, will give the impression that he is acting in accordance with his own wishes and not according to those of the allies. This decision was reached upon representations from Demetrios Rhalis the Greek premier who is said to have pointed out that Greece would be in a critical situation if opposed by the great powers.

In interview with correspondents at Lucerne yesterday, Constantine declared he would not abdicate in favor of Crown Prince George, adding he had "never had any such intention."

as you do, to stoop so low as to use such unscrupulous tactics. When you compare your Minnesota law with that of North Dakota, it is a joke. I know what I am talking about for I lived in Minnesota for fourteen years.

STATE FOREMOST IN AGRICULTURE

Wisconsin Takes Prominent Place in National Farming Says Hopkins

C. P. Norgard, state commissioner of agriculture, has been elected president of the National Association of Commissioners, Secretaries and Departments of Agriculture, which recently met in Chicago and L. G. Foster, assistant director of the marketing division, has just been elected president of the National Association of State Marketing. Wisconsin's agricultural accomplishments had taken a prominent place in national farm activities, according to Prof. A. W. Hopkins of the university, as the foregoing elections would indicate.

The fact that Illinois which is now putting on a pure bred sire campaign for its cattle, modeled on the plan of Wisconsin's is pointed to as further proof of Badger supremacy in agriculture. The Wisconsin pure bred sire campaign was the model for the nation, it is said. At the international livestock exposition just held at Chicago, R. W. Wade, secretary of the Ontario Cattle Breeders' association conferred with Wisconsin representatives with a view to introducing Wisconsin methods in Canada.

Ten Years Younger Than His Years

Doesn't it make you feel good—cause you to straighten up and feel "cheery"—when someone guesses your age at ten years or so younger than you really are? You look into your mirror, smile with satisfaction and say to yourself: "Well, he didn't make such a bad guess, at that."

The point is: You're no older than your vitality.

If a man is strong, vigorous, mentally alert, fine and fit at 50 he has a better chance of living up to 80 than a man of 30 who is weak and run-down has of living up to 60. While none of us can stay the years nor stop time, we should all make an heroic effort to successfully resist the effects of time by ever keeping our vitality at par.

When you sense a feeling of slowing down of your physical forces—when your stomach, liver, kidneys and other organs show signs of weakness—when you notice a lack of your old time "pep" and "punch"—in other words, when you feel your vitality is on the wane, you should commence at once to restore your energy, strength and endurance by taking

Simple Rulings for Sending Xmas Mail

There will be no trouble about handling the Christmas mail efficiently, says Postmaster Devine, if a few simple but important rules are followed during the holiday period. They are as follows: Pre-pay postage fully on all parcels. Address parcels fully and plainly. Place name and address of senders on all parcels, and to be doubly safe, enclose the names and addresses of both the sender and addressee on a slip of paper inside the package. Do not seal the package for sealed packages require letter rate postage. Mail parcels early. Insure every parcel and do not forget to get your receipt. To eliminate the long waiting lines and over-working employees at the main office, Mr. Devine draws the attention of the public to the

MRS. GANNON IS NOW PICTURE OF HEALTH

Milwaukee Woman Was Helpless From Rheumatism When She Began Taking Tanlac, Says Husband — Troubles Ended.

"It seems almost too good to be true but it's a fact, my wife today hasn't an ache or a pain and is as active as a young girl and only two months ago she was absolutely helpless from rheumatism," said John P. Gannon, 378 Reed St., Milwaukee, an employee of the Ding's Magnetic Separator Co.

"She had been an awful sufferer for four years. Her joints were stiff and her arms were swollen to twice their natural size. Many a time I have seen her try to comb her hair and just break down and cry it hurt her so to raise her arms. Finally she couldn't get in or out of bed without help and it was out of the question for her to try to walk around.

"She had nervous indigestion, too, lost her appetite and didn't sleep enough to do her any real good. She tried everything we ever heard of without getting relief and I was afraid she would never be herself again. I lived in dread of what the future held for her because it was plain to see what awful agony she suffered. By good luck we heard about Tanlac and I persuaded her to try it.

"In less than a week there was a big change in her condition and she told me she felt sure Tanlac was the very medicine she needed. Well, sir, she kept improving until she is a well woman today and I believe our home is the happiest in Milwaukee. She has gained ten pounds, and is the very picture of health.

"It's all so wonderful I can hardly believe my eyes and certainly shows what a grand medicine Tanlac must be."

Tanlac is sold in Madison by the Luckey Pharmacies, and in Mazin by Geo. A. Shields, in Mt. Horeb by C. C. Robertshaw, in Cambridge by Ole Bilstad, and by the leading druggists in every town.—Adv.

"Paris styles are not for American women," according to Joseph, the first man in this country to have the foresight and imagination to believe that America was capable of creating her own fashions.

In 1911, at a great sacrifice of money and prestige, Joseph put all French models out of his galleries. This, too, at a time when the fashionable world demanded a Paris label. But Joseph had faith in his ideals and persevered. He turned out costumes, so original and distinctive that public interest was aroused and soon the foremost shops in the city followed his lead. American designing was given an impetus to originate its own fashions.

"Paris labels do not necessarily stand for exclusiveness or originality," says Joseph. "On the contrary they belong to everyone. A famous Paris modiste sends over a model which is copied wholesale, not only by the best shops, but by manufacturers as well. The result is that the French model loses its exclusiveness and the owner of the model dress is apt to see a dozen cheap copies of her gown."

"Then, too Paris styles are not as well suited to the American women as the models created by designers who understand her type. American women are beginning to realize this more and more and are giving preference to the creations distinctively American rather than to imported models."

In this stunning creation of cloth of gold over drapery of gold Pointe de Paris lace Joseph uses the small asbestine green ostrich feather as the only ornamentation. The ostrich also festoons the edge of the train and the left side of the bodice.

BILLY WHISKERS

By FRANCES TREGO MONTGOMERY

"How am I ever to get out of this box?" thought Billy as he rode along after having feasted on all the goodies. "My legs are cramped, and I ache in every bone from remaining so long in such an awkward position. I'll stretch a bit and see where we are, at the same time," and he cautiously raised the hamper lid with his head.

"Well, well! If there isn't the gate to the grounds. How glad I am to see it. I'll crouch down here and ride right in with the family." But the flowers on Mrs. Treat's hat proved his undoing, for they waved so temptingly near, Billy could not resist one little nibble to see if they were as delicious as they looked. Feeling the twitch as his teeth fastened upon them, that lady turned suddenly, and Billy, making a hurried effort to escape her eye, dodged down behind. Unfortunately he lost his balance and fell into the dust. He rolled over and over in the deep dust of the unpaved roadway until his beautiful white coat was soiled and grimy.

Regaining his footing with a bound, he shook himself to free his coat of the dirt and to express his disgust.

"I'll never do to let a trifle like this keep me from the fair. I must gain an entrance somehow," and he ran as fast as his fleet legs could carry him.

He made a desperate effort to overtake the automobile, but just as the machine rolled past the entrance and into the enchanted territory, Billy dashed up, only to be confronted by the gatekeeper, who nimbly swung the wide gate back into place—and Billy was outside!

"Beaten!" he gasped, gazing wrathfully after the disappearing automobile. "How can I get inside of that high fence?"

Billy sadly and slowly began to patrol the fence, searching for some place that would offer easy entrance. Two or three times he was half way under, squirming his way in like a common dog, but a crowd of boys found him and, taking advantage of his helpless position, threw sticks and stones, and forced him to withdraw.

Coming to a high bluff that overlooked the grounds, he climbed it and lay down for a few moments of rest.

"Oh, if only I were there! It must be glorious. See that beautiful horse trotting around the track at the far side—and there, there is our auto, I'm sure of it! I wonder what Mrs. Treat will say when she discovers that something has happened to her fine lunch. But here, I must gain entrance to these grounds by hook or by crook."

He thought a long time, but one plan after another was cast aside as being too foolhardy or unworthy his prowess, or beneath his dignity. At last, just below him, he spied little Dick coming along beside his mother.

"Ah, there is my playfellow!" and with no thought but to join him, he bounded over the forbidden fence. "Oh, Billy, Billy!" shouted surprised Dick. "I'm so glad to see you," but Billy needed just one quick glance at Mrs. Treat's face to realize that it was wise for him to keep his distance, and away he scurried, free as when on his native hills in far-away Switzerland.

(Tomorrow Billy starts trouble at the fair.)

HEART AND HOME PROBLEMS

By MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

Dear Mrs. Thompson: There is not a day passing that has not in it some unhappiness for me. I have never had a completely happy day in my life while at home. Can you advise me what to do?

My married sister and her husband live with us. I have also a younger sister who is petted and spoiled. She gets everything she wants and I have to go without to make up for the things she wants.

Brother-in-law does everything possible to make me unhappy. If my sister does something which turns out wrong she blames me, and if I deny it her husband says I lie and my parents believe him.

I am by no means a bad character and have never done anything bad, but still when I meet them on the street he will not allow my sister to speak to me. They have been married since March and since their marriage he has never spoken a civil word to me.

I am supposed to be a sophomore in high school this year, but no longer go to school. My mother wishes me to work and earn my own way, but I am unable to find a position because of my age. I am not allowed to go to a different and larger city to work, as I should like to.

I have often thought of leaving home, but I have neither the money nor the courage to go. It is not my love for home that keeps me here, but I would have no place to go and would not know what to do in another city.

Will you please advise me what to do? ROSALIND.

Look for happiness. What one of us, do you think, has a day which does not bring its unhappiness? The person to be admired is the one who catches every bit of sunshine and keeps it uppermost in her mind in order to forget the conditions of misery in which she lives.

If you keep a brave heart for a year or two longer your cloud will be lifted. You might secure a position as nurse maid, while you are too young to work in an office. Later other opportunities will present themselves to you if you are on the lookout and ready to receive them.

It would be interesting to see how brave you can be. When your sister blames things on you, say nothing. Your silence will cure your sister quicker than any amount of arguing.

Try not to be so sensitive. Keep your eyes open for the pleasant things which pass your way daily and you will be sure to find them.

Young Dennis Outclasses Frankie Schaefer In Ten Round Battle

NEU IS VICTOR BY KNOCKOUT IN 4TH ROUND

Madison Boy Makes Great Comeback; Britt and Bontley Fight Four Rounds to Draw

CAPITAL TIMES DECISIONS.
Young Tony Dennis, Milwaukee, defeated Frankie Schaefer, Chicago, in 10 rounds.
Johnny Neu, Madison, stopped Jimmie Marks, Chicago, in four rounds.
Roy Meyers won over Eddie Murphy in one round.
Kid Britt fought a draw with Kid Bontley in four rounds.

BY PAUL A. HOLMES.

Young Tony Dennis of Milwaukee, scoring a clean cut advantage in seven rounds out of 10, easily defeated Frankie Schaefer of Chicago in their 10 round encounter last night in the windup bout of the Monona Athletic club boxing show.

Dennis outclassed Schaefer from the first minute, but the Chicago lad's gameness and ability to cover up and take punches on his arms prevented the Cream City boxer from scoring a knockout. Schaefer was groggy several times during the fight, but managed to keep away from a fatal swing.

The fight started out fairly slow, with both boxers cautiously feeling each other out. The first round was a slight margin, for Dennis showed twice the boxing ability of Schaefer, and connected twice as often. The second round saw the pace speeded up, and both battlers were swinging and sending home punches with regularity. In this spasm Schaefer earned a draw for himself by his hard hitting and ability to leap off the ropes and beat his opponent in swinging. However, Dennis always outboxed the Chicago lad everytime they came together.

The third round was the fastest of the fight, and was also an even round. It was a whirlwind affair, with both fighters battling hard every minute. The next stanza found both boys slowing up considerably, and in the early part of the frame Schaefer was at his best. The Chicago puncher gained an advantage by his rucking tactics which would have won the battle for him had not he slowed up in the closing minutes and allowed Dennis to overtake matters by swinging home some staggering punches. From that time on the fight was all for Dennis. In the sixth frame, one of Dennis' right swings started blood. The ninth round found Dennis trying desperately for a knockout, and as the bell ended the period he was hammering Schaefer in the corner of the ring. Frankie was undoubtedly saved by the bell, but he came back strong and stayed on his feet during the tenth round.

NEU SCORES COME BACK.

Johnny Neu started on his much heralded comeback by disposing of Jimmie Marks of Chicago in short order. The match was scheduled to go 10 rounds as the semi-windup, but Johnny effectually stopped the bout in the fourth session, when after one minute and 20 seconds of milling, he toppled Marks with a right to the jaw.

Marks didn't come to until he reached the dressing room. He staggered to his feet when Steinauer began to count and then settled back until the count of nine. Here he again raised himself, but he was still paralyzed from the blow, and his arms hung limply at his sides, while his eyes were glassy. Referee Steinauer waived Johnny to his corner and Marks' seconds assisted him from the ring.

Neu fought a careful battle, being handicapped by an injured left hand which he hurt again in the second round. This prevented him from using his effective left hook Johnny was forced to wait a chance to send in a right. He outwitted Marks by about six pounds. The two men more sparring in the first two rounds, and in the third Johnny threw in with a whirlwind attack which would have spelled finish for Marks

National League to Hold Annual Meeting

NEW YORK—The annual meeting of the National League will be held there tomorrow. The American League, according to an announcement made by President Johnson in Chicago today, will hold forth here on Friday. The meeting has been transformed owing to the fact that several American League magnates already are in the East. President Johnson is expected here Thursday.

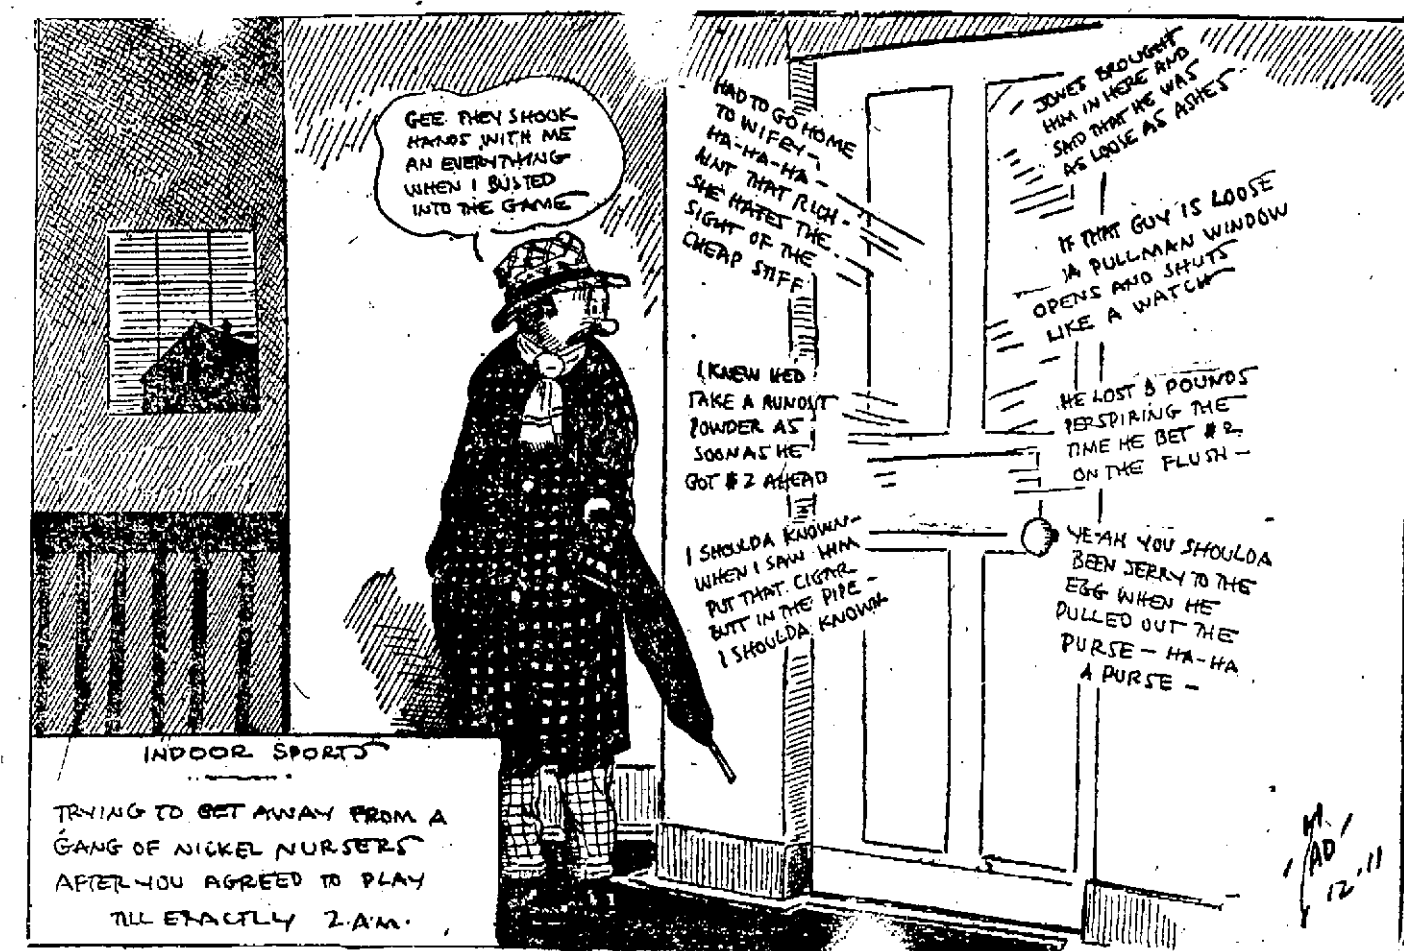

had the bout continued another minute. As it was, the end came shortly after the start of the fourth session.

Britt Gets Draw.
Roy Meyers, substituting for the Chicago negroes, who were foreclosed off the card by the boxing commission, fought a good fight for one round, giving an exhibition of toe to toe slugging which delighted the crowd. A minute from the end of the round, however, Murphy signalled that he had had enough. The action came as a surprise for Murphy had started well and the fighting had been even up to that time.

Kid Britt, outwitted by nine pounds, fought a slow draw with Batling Bontley, the "Mystery Kid," in the four round curtain raiser. Bontley fought hard during the first two rounds, but Britt, adopting clinching tactics and continually refusing to mix, kept him at his distance. The first round was even, as was the last. Bontley won the second, and Britt had an advantage in the third.

Nearly 600 people saw the fights, a much larger house than was on hand for the last show here. The date of the next M. A. C. show has not been announced.

INDOOR SPORTS

BADGERS BEAT RIVER FALLS BY 28-8 SCORE

Game With Ripon College Cancelled—Play Marquette Dec. 18

BY C. J. L.

The Wisconsin basketball team showed a marked improvement in form in the second preliminary game of the season when it defeated the River Falls normal five by a 28 to 8 score.

Wisconsin took the lead in the first half and was never headed, while the River Falls squad could not break through the Wisconsin defense for a shot at the basket. The Badgers' defense worked like a well-oiled machine and prevented the River Falls forwards from getting close enough for a careful try for baskets. Coach Chandler's team played five men back when the Wisconsin forwards had the ball, but their defense was ineffective against the rushing Wisconsin attack.

Offense Shows Well
On the offense, Wisconsin worked the ball down the court with more regularity, but the old fault of too hurried shooting at the basket prevented the Badgers from running up a larger score. River Falls was unable to hit the mark with any consistency, and effective guarding held the normal squad to one basket in each period.

Coach Meanwell's short pass game carried the ball through the River Falls squad for the majority of the counters scored by Wisconsin, while Caesar and Tebell each entered the scoring column with pretty shots which dropped through the net.

Taylor Leads Scoring
Captain Taylor and Caesar set the scoring pace for the remainder of the Badger quintet. Taylor led the quintet in the floor game and threw the Badger free throws. Caesar came down the floor for three long shots, and shifted back for defense whenever the normal team threatened.

Tebell at the other guard position worked in nicely with Caesar and dropped in a long distance shot from the center of the floor. Frogner and Fanning alternated at center. Frogner showed up well on the defense. Fanning, who is back in the game after a long lay-off, netted two baskets.

Rollie Williams, who played opposite Captain Taylor, displayed a fine exhibition of speedy dribbling and pivoting.

Coach Meanwell's charges scored five when Taylor dropped in a free throw. River Falls groined up the count, but Caesar followed with a long basket, and Taylor counted another free shot. Both teams were guarding closely, and although the forwards displayed some fast work, they could not get away for a clean try at the net. River Falls was fouled for running with ball, and Taylor scored another free throw, running the Badger score up to five. Taylor made a basket after a quick dash down the floor, and Tebell followed with one from the center ring. Caesar's basket made the score 11 to 2. River Falls scored on a free throw, and Rollie Williams spurted down for a speedy basket as the half ended with the count 15 to 4.

Second Period Slower
Wisconsin was unable to get started in the second period, and Taylor dropped in three free throws before the Badgers counted another basket. Coach Meanwell sent in his substitutes at this stage of the game, and the second staling man

The Reimick and Krenger Cubs and Speth's Five, leaders in the Madison Basketball association race, last night kept their percentages up to the 1,000 mark by winning games from the Y. M. C. A. and the Baraca quintets, respectively.

The Cloisters won 29 to 22, by tying the score just as the game ended, and playing through the overtime period in whirlwind fashion.

Speth's lagged most of the game, being behind, 9 to 8, at the half and being seemingly defeated just as the game was drawing to a close. Then the Cloisters stepped out, tied the score by making six points in the last minute and a half of play and won in the extra session. Gerhard, running guard, starred with nine goals from the field. P. Lallier was the Baraca's bulwark in scoring.

STECHEER LOSES WORLD'S TITLE

Strangler Lewis Captures Wrestling Championship in New York Match

NEW YORK—Ed (Strangler) Lewis of San Jose, Cal., won the world's heavyweight catch as catch can wrestling championship. Monday night by throwing Joe Stecher of Dodge, Neb., in one hour and forty-one minutes, fifty-six seconds, with a head and hip lock.

Lewis weighed 228 pounds, twenty more than his opponent.

That boiler from Stoughton could land up here and hit Dennis on the jaw and he would say "shoo fy."

Marks who boxed Neu, the Madison flash, should make a dandy Tea Hound.

Kid Britt fought a good battle showed lots of clever stuff at that has improved to a great extent.

Britt one time asked what round it was in his corner. Some one said the 15th round. The kid said, the Hell it is.

Did you see the punches that Schaefer took in the stomach? O. Boy, he must train on hickory wuts and codfish and use slack as a wash.

There was a fair crowd there. The only way to pack them in here is to give a player piano away with every ticket.

Murphy who jumped out of the ring in the first round would make a great back alley champion. He is a great free for all kid.

Some people asked me what I thought the Dennis, Schaefer fight was. Dennis won by 3 city blocks and Camp Randall field thrown in.

NEW SKIING SLIDE TO MAKE POSSIBLE JUMP OF 115 FEET
Will Be Opened by Ski Club Two Weeks After Christmas

Ski-jumpers will have an ideal slide at the university this winter when the members of the Badger Ski club have finished their work, according to George Martin, president of the club.

The slide will be in the same place that it was last year, but will make a jump of 115 feet possible which will exceed last year's jump by at least 35 feet. This increase will be brought about by the building of a higher scaffold at the beginning of the slide.

The scaffold will be 35 feet high while the one last year was only 10 feet high. Owing to the increased height it will be set back nearly to the road. There will be two starting platforms on the scaffold, one being about half way to the top, making it possible for beginners to take half speed. Successful landing was difficult last year because the landing place was so rough.

The members of the club have leveled off the landing place this fall. A public opening of the slide by members of the club will take place the second Saturday after Christmas. The club, working in conjunction with Coach Thomas E. Jones of the athletic department, is planning a big season this year.

ROUNDY'S RAZZBERRIES

Jack Dempsey will open a slaughter house in New York tonight.

Anybody who can fight Dempsey twice is not human.

Boxers at Seattle, Wn., have been arrested and sent to work which goes to show you the Lord's human.

Kid Bontley who boxed Kid Britt at Turner Hall last night, is a clever wrestler.

Bontley could cut a leg off and still weigh as much as Britt.

Schaefer in the windup weighed 128½ lbs. Now do the boxing inspectors try to tell the people that Dennis weighed 134½ last night?

A boxer can go stale but some of these wicked press agents that accompany the boxers never do.

That Chicago crowd thought that Madison was built during the war.

Johnnie Neu knocked Marks the Chicago Boy for six row of seats and 3 boxes.

That boiler from Stoughton could land up here and hit Dennis on the jaw and he would say "shoo fy."

"Here's Real Tobacco" says the Good Judge

That gives a man more genuine chewing satisfaction than he ever got out of the ordinary kind. Smaller chew, lasts longer—so it costs less to chew this class of tobacco.

And the good, rich tobacco taste gives a world of satisfaction.

Any man who uses the Real Tobacco Chew will tell you that.

Put up in two styles

W-B CUT is a long fine-cut tobacco

RIGHT CUT is a short-cut tobacco

Equity A Shell

National Organization in Convention Here Today is But Memory of Old Power

REPRESENTATIVES of the remnants of a once great and powerful farmers' organization, The American Society of Equity, are in convention here today.

The American Society of Equity, which two years ago comprised over 40,000 members in the states of Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa and Montana is now a mere shell. It has been wrecked financially and the farmers from Minnesota, Iowa and Montana no longer are members of the organization.

The present predicament with respect to the affairs of the Society of Equity are not surprising when viewed in the light of events of the past two years.

It was quite evident at the recent state convention held in Milwaukee that no grass would grow over the path that leads from the Equity Society leadership to the offices of big business in Milwaukee. When men claiming to stand by the principles of Equity can win benignant approval from such influences as the Milwaukee Association of Commerce, the Milwaukee Sentinel and the old guard politicians of the state then it ought to be quite apparent that the REAL principles of Equity have been betrayed.

Can the Equity leaders be true to the great principles of the founders of the Equity and at the same time be true to the Bloodgoods, Pfister and the interests in Milwaukee and the state that have always been the enemies of the people? Is it in the record anywhere that these interests have ever been anything but enemies of the principles of Equity?

The leaders in the society during the past two years have effected a hypocritical pose of wanting to save the farmers of this state from the clutches of the Nonpartisan league. They have talked of saving the farmers and "saving Wisconsin." While this bogey-man has been conjured up to scare the farmers the forces of big business in this state have silently and insidiously worked within the organization until today we have a situation where Phil Grau, secretary of the Milwaukee Association of Commerce pets the leaders on the back, calls them nice boys and says that the farmers in the Equity society are perfectly nice and lovely boys.

It is because thousands of farmers in this state have seen the betrayal of Equity into the hands of big business in this state that thousands have left the organization. The year 1920 witnessed the largest number of lapses in membership in the history of the organization.

The farmers of the great states of the middle west are progressive. The game of attempting to use their organizations to further the interests of reactionary candidates and of being exploited to the advantage of the enemies of the farmer cannot last.

That is why the American Society of Equity today is a mere shell.

FARMER AND PROFITEER

FARMERS have been writing letters to the Chicago Tribune giving tables to show how much it cost them to raise produce. John A. Johnson of Frankfort, Ind. tells what he raised on his 160 acre farm last season and what it cost him. His net loss was $2,705.

Fred Miner of Lake Mills, Iowa, gives figures to prove that it cost him $1,934.40 to raise 3,450 bushels of oats, or 56 cents a bushel.

J. C. Keen, of Wingate gives figures to show that it cost him $40.70 to produce an acre of wheat. He says the average yield is 20 bushels per acre, making the cost of production over $2.

The net profit of the United Cigar Stores Company in August showed an increase of more than 100 per cent over August, 1919.

The Cuba Cane Sugar Company earned dividends of $17.69 per share on its common stock during the year ending September 30, 1920 as compared with earnings of $7.77 to the previous year.

The Burlington Railroad is about to issue $60,000,000 of stock dividends and $80,000,000 bond dividend to be distributed to its stock and bond holders as a bonus.

SANTA CLAUS WILL ASK STUDENT HELP

To remind university men and women of the spirit of giving that characterizes the Christmas season and to ask them to share their comforts with the students of central Europe, who are without sufficient food or clothing, students dressed as Santa Claus will patrol the campus on Wednesday and Thursday of this week.

The Mason jars to receive subscriptions for the fund will appear on the campus this morning, however. They will be placed in all university buildings and in cafeterias.

The campaign to raise funds for student relief is nation-wide. The University of Michigan has already subscribed 60 per cent more than its quota. Students at the University of Illinois are planning a campaign for $50,000.

PRESS CLUB MEETS FOR 5:30 SUPPER

The bi-weekly meeting of Press club will be held tonight at 5:30 in Lathrop hall. The club will meet for cafeteria supper in the S. G. A. room. The committee in charge of the annual Pi Night celebration will report at this meeting. "Pat" Dennis '21, president, assures members that the meeting will be over promptly at 6:55 to allow everyone opportunity to attend the all-university massmeeting.

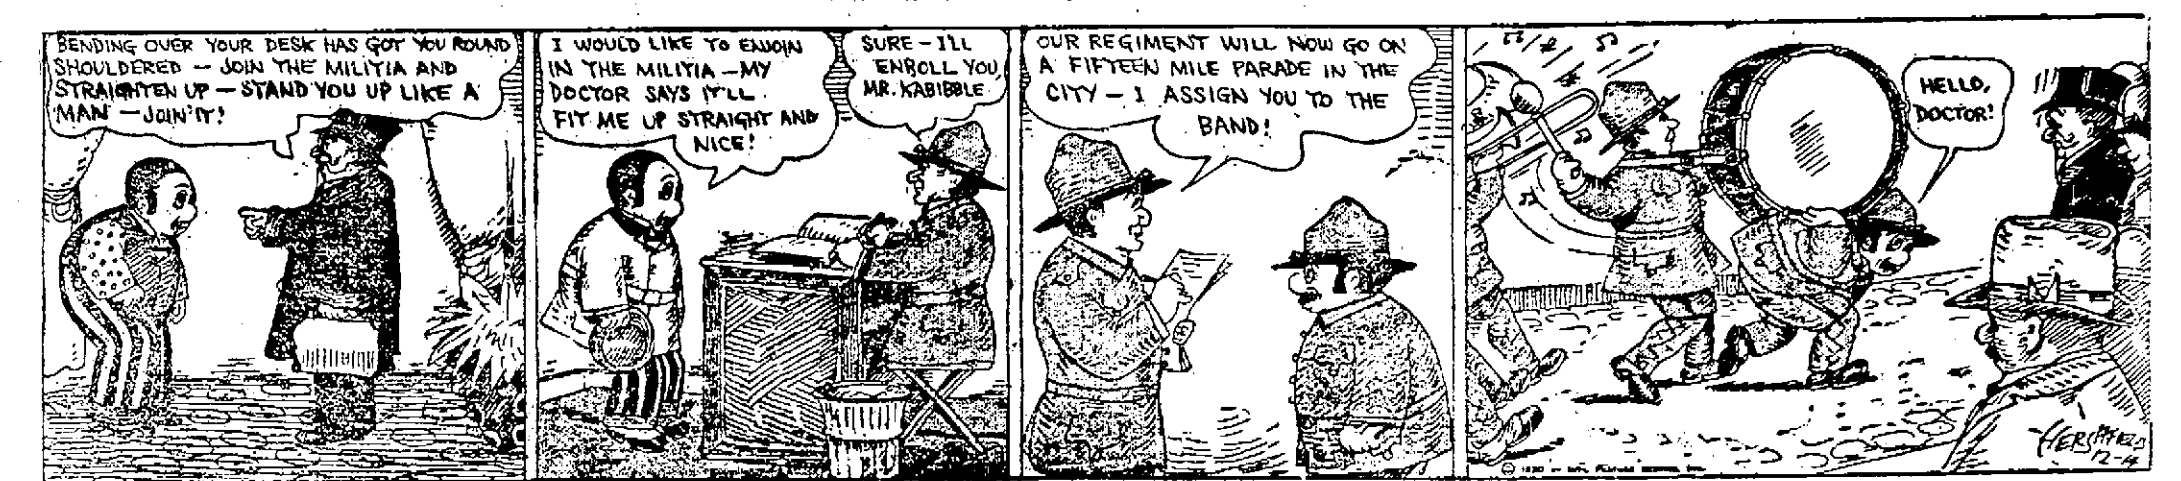

CAST TRYOUTS FOR JOINT PLAY TODAY

Tryouts for the joint production of Edwin Booth, Red Domino, and at 7:30 today, in Lathrop parlors. Copies of the play, "Mrs. Smith's Lesson," by Harry J. Smith, can be obtained at the university desk in the library, but not be taken from the building.

Voice Of The People

THE WISCONSIN EQUITY SOCIETY A POLITICAL PARTY To The Editor of the Capital Times:

The Equity Society like all other farmer organizations had in its constitution and by-laws the statement that it was a non-partisan organization and like all other farmer organizations of its kind will be destroyed on going into partisan politics.

The Society in this state has been made a partisan political machine to the disgust of thousands of members. It is now and has been used as a political opponent of the Nonpartisan League a wholly hypocritical and false function as there is no such issue no more than there is an issue between the Equity and the Democrat and Republican parties.

That the Society will continue to function as a political party was assured when the late state convention at Milwaukee elected Pommerening president, a Tittemore henchman and who was Tittemore's campaign manager in the late campaign.

Tittemore, as well as some others did not lose an opportunity to rap the Nonpartisan League during the convention knowing that half of the delegates were members of the League. How, then could any one with any stretch of the imagination think that those members will go back home and boost for an organization that is doing all it can to obstruct their program?

The farmers of Wisconsin are progressive and can not be lead into the reactionary camp through a blind ally of that kind. It will soon dawn upon the minds of the members that the Society is not only a partisan political machine but that it is an adjunct to Big Business, as was abundantly proved when it was used to defeat Blaine, Cummings and Thompson and to elect Lenroot.

This betrayal of the Progressive cause in the house of its supposed friends will be fully understood by and by and we be to those who are responsible when the people realize what has been done to them. The splendid organization of the Equity Society in Wisconsin is doomed is admitted by all students of farmer organization history.

Those now in charge are men of but little or no experience in this kind of work and do not see that they are pulling the apses down upon themselves. So far as constructive work is concerned the whole year has been wasted besides spending between $20,000.00 and $30,000.00 more than their income. This however, is a small matter compared to the destruction of the organization and damage to the progressive movement.

As at present constituted it functions as a political machine and leaves the field open for the organization of real honest-to-goodness farmers organization which will be sure to come. While some express themselves as thoroughly disgusted and swear that they will never have anything to do with another farmer organization, yet when they have considered the matter a while they will realize that there is no other way out for the farmer than through organization and education and the thing to do is to get busy and connect themselves with some organization and keep a better watch on who is elected to office in the future.

Prom Fox Trot Committee Issues Call for Manuscripts

Let the Irving Berlin of the campus come out from obscurity and obtain fame and fortune!

Get out your score sheets and write down that melody that has been haunting you for the past month. Perhaps that's the one the song that will be sung all over the campus.

A prize of $15 has been offered in the Prom Fox Trot contest this year, while the fame which the writer of the jazziest tune will receive cannot be counted in dollars.

Applications for entrance into the contest should be sent to Margaret McDowell, chairman, B. 661 or P. 65, from January 8 to 15. Tryouts will then be held sometime between January 15 and 25 in a specified place so that all contestants will have a chance to present their songs under the same conditions.

A committee of the best music critics in Madison will be appointed later to judge the scores and determine which composer shall have the honor of having his song played the night of the Junior Prom.

At The Theaters

AT THE STRAND

Coming to the Orpheum—The booking for the last half of this week, starting Thursday night, includes "Doc" Baker in "Flashes" a lightning Revue. "Flashes" is a revue, colorful and beautiful. The story has to do with two attaches of the Grand Central Terminal, New York, who imagine that they realize all their hopes and dreams about the girl and the man they each love and admire.

At the Strand—Mary Miles Minter in "Eyes of the Heart" will be the attractions at the Strand Theatre for the last time today. Laura, a little blind girl, has been brought up by a little group of crooks, whose love for her and loyalty to each other is their one redeeming trait. She naturally loves them for their tenderness to her, and believes her home is as beautiful as they are kind and good. Then an operation gives her sight to her! Can you imagine the bitterness of her disillusionment, the shock of this revelation? There will also be shown a comedy cartoon the latest news story and Louis McIntire's Ring.

At the Fuller—American theatre-goers who revelled in the dramatic wealth of "The Heart of Humanity" and capitulated to the irresistible qualities of "The Right to Happiness" are doubtless of the opinion that in these two photodramas Dorothy Phillips and Allen Holubar, star and director, have reached the heights of screen perfection. But the public is asked to reserve its final verdict until it has had a view of "Once to Every Woman," the newest Universal-Jewel super-production, now showing at the Fuller Theatre.

At the Orpheum—Signor Friscoe with the aid of a few clever and well placed aids in the audience and also his correct xylophone playing assured himself of his share of universal applause. His acclaim was loud and prolonged and was only stopped by an old stage ruse. An enlarged company of dancing team-

FOG FANTASY.

When Fog Magic mellowed Manhattan, Just at the home-going hour, It makes the deep distance flatten. It lengthens each luminous tower: Lamps fill the blue night With pink petals of light, And the bridge is a rose-ridden bower.

This lantern-hung garden is merry, As I pace across City Hall Park; But a fiend trails my feet to the ferry, And the harbor hounds bay, and bark; And the fog demon yells 'O'er the boom of the bells: "You are floating with Death in the dark!"

Isn't it aggravating when a fellow is batching to have the saucer stick to the cup all its halfway up and then splash into his bean soup? —Fillee (Neb.) Spotlight.

IT COMES IN HANDY

My neighbor cranks his finger Each morning in the dark, The noise would jar your liver When it begins to spark.

It wakens all us neighbors, That live within a block; We start our daily labors By this alarm clock.

"Do they have blue laws on Half Moon Mountain?" asks Harry. They certainly do. That country is so backward that the original blue laws are in force there. You must kiss your wife on Sunday nor can you smoke or swear within three miles of a schoolhouse.

One Sunday my wife was away and I was cooking my own dinner. I put a kettle on the stove and put the stove lid on the floor. While going back for another dish I stepped on the lid on the floor. It was red hot and I had a hole in my shoe. Carl Leaser, the sneak, was watching me through a chink in the curtain. He had the grand jury indict me on two counts: Cussing within a mile of the schoolhouse, and dancing on Sunday.
